

What's Up In Waukesha

A Newsletter from the City of Waukesha

Hartwell Railroad Crossing

The railroad will be doing an emergency repair at the Hartwell Avenue crossing today (Wednesday, February 28). The crossing is located between Main St. and Arcadian Ave. The closure is expected to be from 9am-noon.

A New Home

The new Fire Station #3 (2440 Les Paul Parkway) is officially open and operational. The old Fire Station #3 (1210 Sentry Drive) is no longer in use.

Please note, there is a warning system installed that will flash on Les Paul Parkway to alert drivers when emergency vehicles will be entering traffic.

Public Information Meeting

An open-house style informational meeting is being held to discuss the reconstruction of South Street and Gaspar Street downtown that is scheduled to begin in mid-March.

The meeting will be held this Thursday, March 1, from 5-6pm in Room 207 of City Hall. A short presentation will be held at 5:15pm.

Representatives from Public Works Department and Water Utility will be available to answer questions and discuss the project.

Don't Flush It!

Did you know, even if a wipe says that it is flushable, it still can't be flushed down the toilet.

In fact, there are number of items that don't belong down the toilet such as rags, dental floss, sanitary products, paper towels, cotton swabs and many other items that are better suited for the trash can.

If you flush garbage down your toilet, it can clog the sanitary sewer pipes and lead to a major problem! As the sewer system is one we all rely on, please do your part to help us keep the system working properly.

Planning for the Future

The City is currently undertaking a strategic planning process. This process will be used to help the City set priorities and resources for the upcoming years. To help lead us through the strategic planning process, the City has hired The Mejorando Group.

The process involves conversations and workshops with the Aldermen, Department Heads, City Administrator and Mayor. Focus Groups were also held with some community members.

All of these activities will lead to a new City Strategic planning document and overall goals for the City later this spring.

Learn the Basics

The Fire Department will be offering the opportunity for interested participants to learn the basics of bleeding control as part of National Stop the Bleed Day. The free course will be offered on Saturday, March 31 from 10am-11am at Fire Station #1 (130 W St. Paul Ave.)

Please register by calling the Fire Station at 262-524-3651 or by e-mail.
